TIME TO CATCH UP!

First, I removed the little airplane with the caption from previous emails entitled "Where in the world is Sylvia!" because I am nowhere! The onslaught of CoVid-19 around the world has dramatically limited air travel, and I am happily ensconced in my little carriage house office.

I did drive to Minnesota last month because the big, beautiful building I owned, The Butler Building has been sold! Hurray! I was the proud owner it for nine years, turned it into a lovely space (23,500 square feet) and it was now ready for the next step in it's life. The folks that purchased it are using it for Friends of the Arts (FOTA) and it will be a cultural and arts center for the town. I am thrilled and wish them only the best.

Now, on to Uganda. The country is obeying the rules so, as a result, very few cases of CoVid-19 (less than 13,000 in a country of 43,000,000 people)! Thanks to many of you we have enough handwashing stations and the classes are socially distanced...so far, so good.

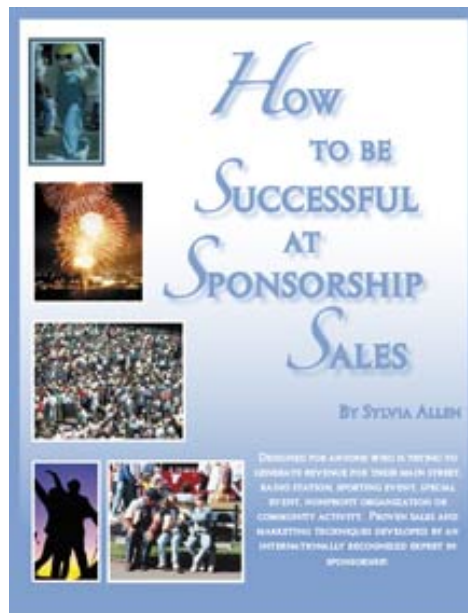

During this time of uncertainty and turmoil I was trying to find a quote that we could all live by and here it is:

"We could learn a lot from crayons:
some are sharp, some are pretty some are dull, some have weird names and all are different colors...but they all exist very nicely in the same box."

Have a wonderful Thanksgiving...be safe...this too shall pass.
